

Tim Dunne is a retired Canadian military public affairs officer with 32 years of service. He served on both of Canada's coasts and in Ottawa. His experience includes peacekeeping missions in Israel, Egypt, Syria and the Balkans. He served with NATO's peace support missions in Bosnia Herzegovina, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia (FYROM), Albania and Kosovo, and conducted numerous seminars and workshops in Mauritania, Austria, Algeria, Slovakia and Italy. He held numerous public affairs management and leadership positions, most notably with the Media Centre for the recovery operations for Swissair flight 111 which crashed off the coast of Nova Scotia in 1999, with NATO led exercises in France, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. In 2001, Bulgaria awarded him the Medal for Loyal Service, among its highest military awards, for his work during a major NATO exercise that paved the way for Bulgaria to join the Alliance.

He is currently the Communications Advisor for the Nova Scotia Department of Natural Resources.
